THE GIVING YELLOW BAG

a project of the Community Alliance of South County

What is the Giving Yellow Bag project?

The Giving Yellow Bag is a new project launched by Community Alliance of South County. Based on a model used in other neighborhoods, the Giving Yellow Bag project brings together volunteers to collect donated items from neighbors in South County and bring these items to organizations for distribution to community members in need.

How does it work?

Residents participating in the project receive a reusable bag (Giving Yellow Bag) and a list of needed items. They fill the bag ~ teams collect the bags and sort the items - volunteers bring the items to local organizations for distribution.

Volunteers with the Giving Yellow Bag project prepare to distribute items collected from neighbors in Franklin Manor. The personal products were distributed to Bay Community Health and to local elementary schools.

What's next?

Plans are being made for The Giving Yellow Bag project to expand to new neighborhoods in 2026.
